The Sumerian Controversy A SPECIAL REPORT

The Elite Power Structure Behind the Latest Discovery Near Ur

DR. HEATHER LYNN

Synopsis

There are new excavations underway in ancient Mesopotamia (modern day Iraq). Join writer, researcher, and archaeologist, Dr. Heather Lynn, as she investigates who is behind the latest Sumerian discovery near the ancient city of Ur. What is its connection to big oil, bankers, and elite families? This report is the first part of a series of briefings designed to keep the public informed on this unfolding story. It will leave you with more questions, than answers, with the goal that you become engaged in the process of investigation. If we work together, the truth can be brought to light. Any profits from the sale of this publication go directly to support the Society for Truth in Archaeological Research (STAR).UpdateYou answered the call! Thanks to the collaborative work of the readers, information and leads have poured in. The follow-up to The Sumerian Controversy has been announced as a full length book with more discoveries, more answers, and more intrigue. The new book, Land of the Watchers (ISBN-13: 978-1489598028), presents an unbiased look at the theories and beliefs of todayâ™s leading experts and blows the lid off the accepted historical narrative. Ancient aliens, royal bloodlines, suppressed technology, one-world government; these are just a few of the many theories that have been proposed to explain the mystery behind Sumerian archaeological excavations. Is there an ancient genealogical link between U.S. presidents, the British monarchy, wealthy elite, the Templars, and the Sumerian kings? Is this genetic link of earthly origin? What does this mean for mankind, and who are the Watchers? Look Land of the Watcher in 2015!

The Sumerian Controversy: A Special Report by Dr. Heather Lynn published in 2013 is a complete rip off. This is NOT a report of Sumer or Sumerian history, archeology, or anything of the kind. The report can be summed up in one sentence: something going at Tel Khyber in Iraq is unusual and probably tied to big oil and big government conspiracies and cover-ups. What is unusual isn't definite. Exactly who is involved remains mysterious. Dr. Lynn simply throws out a few conspiratorial particulars and lets implication do the rest. The facts are: An e-mail contact named Abdulsamad disappeared from the internet; she received death threats; archaeologists have not dug enough in Mesopotamia; an unnamed University of Manchester professor did not answer her e-mail query about Tel Khyber; the backers of the dig at Tel Khyber include Gulfsands Petroleum, PricewaterhouseCoopers, the British Foreign Commonwealth Office, and the founding donor - Baron Lorne von Thyssen. Dr. Lynn never saw or spoke to Abdulsamad and only received one e-mail. Mr. Thyssen is from a wealthy family who might have contacts with the Yale Skull and Bones Society and WWII Nazis in Germany. And that's all folks. Those are all the facts. Wow. A person with a PhD thinks this is solid evidence for | say | just what was the crime anyway? Oh yes, professor X did not reply to her e-mail and the discoveries at Tel Khyber are being secreted away. Oh, wait. Dr. Lynn never says in blunt terms that the artifacts discovered at Tel Khyber are being stolen or hidden away. Here is her accusation: Pottery and artifacts sitting on the surface have been systematically collected, bagged up, and shipped out for further analysis. (p.34) Pretty awful, right?
